Must Read for American CitizensBy Bruce Paul BrinickWell written. Easy to read. Instructional and uplifting collection of stories about people who achieved success in and for America.Each story focuses on one person. Most are 750 words or less. All are concise and to the point. Well researched, as motivational as any I've read, the stories speak to vision, accountability, responsibility, faith and many other essential values traditionally associated with the essence of real American Success. I reread the stories whenever I begin to doubt what makes this country and its people great.In my humble opinion, every US citizen will benefit from these stories. More so now than at other times in our past, our citizenry seems confused about what's beneath the covers of true success: Vision, hard work, attention to detail and a fundamental understanding that if it's to be it's up to me!As bonus to some - stories from the book come with QuickVerse Deluxe software. Its daily devotional feature allows you to schedule the stories as an automated pop-up when you launch QuickVerse.Highly recommended!

From stories about Irving Berlin to Oprah Winfrey, this collection contains 366 inspirational five-minute readings - one for each day of the year. Included are motivational stories of successful people such as Steven Spielberg, Bill Gates, Thomas Edison, and Wilma Rudolph.
