From Wiley : A Vision for the Future: In Conversation with Financial Strategists (Wiley Finance) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Vision for the Future: In Conversation with Financial Strategists (Wiley Finance):

A Vision for the Future is a collection of fifteen interviews on the subject of strategic financial management with leading experts in the field, including such luminaries as Tom Copeland, Professor H. Markowitz, and Merton Miller. These accessible interviews cover a broad range of subjects, from financial risk management to the question of whether transparency can be increased by improving the implementation of corporate governance.

"An accessible read, which gives a valuable insight into the thinking of high-flying financial strategists." --Lloyd's List, 17th February 2001
From the Back Cover
The early years of the new millennium witness a vastly different financial landscape to that even a few years ago. Those who have failed to keep pace are those who will fall behind. In this accessible and entertaining book giants of the financial world such as Tom Copeland, and Nobel Prize winners Harry Markowitz and Merton Miller discuss their views on financial strategy and look ahead to future trends. There are contributions from international experts both in the private and public sector and from the academic world. The book examines through 15 self-contained interviews the many facets of financial strategy, each person giving his viewpoint in a balanced objective fashion. They discuss a broad range of strategies such as the dominance of the market (despite government attempts to regulate), Value Based Management, Valuation and how economic theories translate into practice.
