Need constant update as Islamic finance is a rapidly developing topic. Public and school reference libraries should consider to keep one. Not recommend to buy personal copy.

Get up to speed quickly on the world's fastest growing financial sector The Islamic Finance Handbook: A Practitioner's Guide to the Global Markets is the definitive report for the Islamic finance industry. Written by the industry's leading practitioners, the book provides a country-by-country breakdown of the current state of the Islamic market, including league tables by region and by country. Relevant case studies are used throughout to illustrate the practical aspect of the information presented. Organized for easy navigation, each chapter features sub-sections that allow instant comparison between countries in a specific area of interest. The Islamic finance industry is the world's fastest growing sector, valued at over U.S. $1.3 trillion by the UK Islamic Finance secretariat, with an annual growth of 24% for the past five years. To compete globally, practitioners need a true understanding of key markets within the industry. The Islamic Finance Handbook paints a clear picture of where each country stands in its development and role within the market, and provides a straightforward comparison between markets. Features include: Current macroeconomic and microeconomic conditions Regulatory and political situations Recent transactions, key participants, and the investor climate Real-world cases, as opposed to speculative scenarios The book places a clear focus on current conditions versus past performance, and on practical applications versus theoretical speculation. Each chapter is authored by a leading practitioner from within each country, allowing a true glimpse inside the day-to-day workings of the Islamic markets. For finance professionals who need to get up to speed on this rapidly growing sector, The Islamic Finance Handbook: A Practitioner's Guide to the Global Markets is a clear, comprehensive guide.

From the Inside Flap The Islamic Finance Handbook: A Practitioner's Guide to the Global Markets contains a country-by-country breakdown of the state of modern Islamic finance, detailing the information professionals need to effectively do business in these jurisdictions. Presented in a way that allows quick identification and location of topics of interest, each country report is organized into well-structured subsections that facilitate easy comparison of factors between countries. Written by leading experts in the field, the book provides an overview of the sector as well as insights into the unique mechanisms that contribute to the growth and function of the Islamic finance industry, including current macro- and microeconomic conditions, regulations, and politics. Islamic finance is the fastest-growing sector within the modern finance industry. Currently valued at US$ 2 trillion dollars, the Islamic banking and finance sector has experienced an annual growth rate of 24% over the past five years. Governments around the world are initiating regulatory changes to support the continued growth of the sector, integrating Islamic finance into the global economy. The authors focus on the practical aspects of the topic, and use real-life case studies to illustrate important points and complex scenarios. Each chapter is written by a leading industry practitioner, providing the reader with a true insider's perspective into the workings of this increasingly active sector. For a financial professional who hopes to be truly effective in the global economy, this book provides the information and insight necessary to gain a foothold in the Islamic finance market.

From the Back Cover PRAISE FOR THE ISLAMIC FINANCE HANDBOOK

“For over a decade Andrew Morgan and Andrew Tebutt have provided a point of reference for the Islamic banking sector, which has enjoyed one of the fastest growth rates in international finance and a rapidly expanding global footprint. Through their market awareness and connection to a diverse group of senior practitioners, the editors have delivered consistently insightful and comprehensive coverage to their audience. The Islamic Finance Handbook builds upon that through further contribution by respected, industry experts who are well positioned to inform and educate those already involved in the marketplace, as well as those seeking access to it.”

—STELLA COX, Managing Director, DDCAP Group

“This book serves as a great starting point for those who wish to embark on a research journey or want to have a feel and understanding of Islamic finance in different jurisdictions especially the new frontiers for Islamic finance. It is a great reference book and must have equally for both researchers and practitioners.”

—ISSAM AL TAWARI, Chairman Managing Director, Rasameel Structured Finance

“As the Islamic financial services industry expands into more and more jurisdictions, this new Islamic Finance Handbook provided a timely introduction into what has been happening across the world. It covers not just the well-known homes of Islamic finance but also explores developments in those countries that are just commencing their engagement with the industry. Although each country is covered by a different contributor, it is possible to identify consistent themes that highlight those areas where further developmental work needs to be undertaken by legislative and regulatory authorities in order to create enabling environments that are capable of responding to Islamic financial products, removing barriers to their introduction, and ensuring a level playing field with conventional products that respond to similar economic needs. This work will provide readers with an introduction to the sector in each country and serve as a starting point for further exploration and research. It is to be hoped that the editors will be able to continue adding further countries to new editions.”

—NEIL D MILLER, Global Head of Islamic Finance, Linklaters

About the Author REDMONEY is a publishing and events company focusing purely on the global Islamic finance market. The company was started in mid-2004 in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, by Andrew Morgan and Andrew Tebutt, and initially rolled out two products: Islamic finance training and Islamic finance news.
