From Asian Development Bank : Together We Deliver 2014: From Knowledge and Partnerships to Results before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Together We Deliver 2014: From Knowledge and Partnerships to Results:

The book highlights successful projects that demonstrated development impacts, best practice, and innovation. They were implemented through the hard work of ADB's developing member countries with support from ADB project teams and other partners. The results of the projects have changed and will continue to change the lives of many, especially the poor. Together We Deliver is jointly produced by ADB and its developing member countries as a companion publication to the 2014 Developing Effectiveness Review report.
