From Asian Development Bank : Together We Deliver 2015: Partnerships against Poverty before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Together We Deliver 2015: Partnerships against Poverty:

The publication highlights successful projects that demonstrate development impact, best practices, and innovation. They were implemented through the hard work of ADB's developing member countries in partnership with ADB project teams and other partners. The results of these projects have changed and will continue to change the lives of people in Asia and the Pacific. Together We Deliver is jointly produced by ADB and its developing member countries as a companion publication to the 2015 Development Effectiveness Review report.
